CURRICULUM

Courses are updated regularly to reflect the latest developments in the field of psychology. Choose a concentration to develop specialized expertise in your chosen career path:

General Psychology: Learn to apply psychological principles and research methods and to investigate emotional, physical, cognitive, and social aspects of human behavior. Study behavioral approaches, neuropsychological perspectives and technologies, issues in psychopathology, and cognitive psychology.

Addictions: Study the principles of addictions counseling, group counseling, psychopharmacology, and co-occurring disorders. Prepare to counsel clients who have problems with alcohol, drugs, gambling, and eating disorders.

Applied Behavioral Analysis (ABA): Focus on special populations such as the developmentally disabled, the autistic, and individuals with traumatic brain injury. Learn to utilize behavioral concepts and theories, and develop assessment and intervention skills. This concentration could help you on your way to becoming a Board Certified Behavior Analyst® (BCBA®).

Industrial/Organizational (I/O) Psychology: Apply psychological principles to the business world and explore the theories, methods, and practice of I/O psychology. Improve workplace motivation and attitudes, employee training, evaluation and leadership, organizational behavior, and human resources.
