COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

MR. ANDY ROSEN

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Kaplan, Inc.

Andrew S. Rosen is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Kaplan, Inc., among the largest, most diverse global education organizations and the largest subsidiary of Graham Holdings Company. He also serves as Executive Vice President of Graham Holdings Company.

Throughout his two-decade career at Kaplan, Rosen has helped pioneer much of the company's innovation and growth, with a focus on student success and outcomes. These include the founding of Concord Law School, the first fully online law school in the U.S.; the development of Kaplan University from a few dozen to more than 50,000 online students; and the creation of new blended online and classroom-based learning opportunities for both working adults and test preparation students.

An advocate for adult learners, Rosen is a well-known voice in the media and other public forums about the challenges facing higher education today.

Rosen is the author of Change.edu: Rebooting for the New Talent Economy which details the history of innovation in American higher education and lays out a prescription for restoring its pre-eminence by focusing anew on the goals of learning outcomes, access, affordability, and accountability.

Since its publication, Change.edu has earned positive reviews in The Wall Street Journal, Forbes, The Washington Post, The Chronicle of Higher Education, and Inside Higher Ed, and generated praise from a range of education thought leaders, including former New York City Schools Chancellor Joel Klein and bestselling author Clay Christensen. Business leader and philanthropist Bill Gates touts the book as “truly important for the debate on what needs to be done to improve the success of post-secondary education in America.”

Rosen graduated from Yale Law School, and also has an AB degree from Duke University. A resident of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Rosen is actively involved in a number of regional business and civic organizations. He currently serves on the boards of Enterprise Florida, Pine Crest School, the Museum of Art/Fort Lauderdale, the Broward Workshop, and the Council for Educational Change. He is also a member of the CEO Council of the Greater Fort Lauderdale Alliance (Broward County).

Military Recognition

The challenge coin is a tradition in the military which started following WWI. Initially, coins were awarded by commanders for above and beyond accomplishment. This tradition continues to be popular in both military and veteran culture. Purdue University Global's challenge coin is presented to graduates who have served in our armed forces, or their spouses, in honor of their sacrifice to our country and academic achievement. Please stop at the Military Booth in the lobby to pick up a coin after the ceremony.

Gift of Knowledge Program

At Purdue University Global, we believe that investment in our employees and their education is an important component in the success of our community of professionals. PURDUE UNIVERSITY GLOBAL HISTORY

Purdue University Global (formerly Kaplan University) traces its roots back to 1937 with the founding of the American Institute of Commerce. The University was one of the first institutions to offer higher education online, starting with just 34 students and a handful of degree options. Over the years it expanded its academic offerings and in 2004 began to offer master's programs. The University was acquired by Purdue University in March 2018 and renamed Purdue University Global. Purdue Global is a separate and distinct institution within the Purdue University system.

Purdue Global strives to help adult students unlock their talent by providing a practical, student-centered education that prepares them for careers in fast-growing industries. Graduates receive comprehensive education through disciplined, professional programs of instruction. The University was founded to provide professional business training and has achieved this objective for 80-plus years by keeping abreast of employment demands, employer needs, teaching methods, and the use of various educational resources and industry-standard technology and equipment.

Today, Purdue Global serves approximately 30,000 online and campus-based students throughout the country and around the world. In addition to many associate's and bachelor's degree programs, the University offers several online master's degree programs in business, legal studies, education, nursing, and criminal justice, among others. Concord Law School, Purdue Global's online law school, also offers Juris Doctor and Executive Juris DoctorSM programs. Purdue Global provides students a suite of personalized services and rich academic support through online tutoring, writing and mathematics labs, and web-based career planning diagnostics that help students craft a course of study to maximize their career potential.

The University has ground locations in Iowa, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, and Wisconsin. ACADEMIC REGALIA AND DRESS

Robes and hoods worn during the commencement are steeped in a tradition that dates back to the eleventh century, when the monks who administered Oxford University in England wore shoulder capes to protect themselves from scratches when they gathered alms and hoods to protect their shaven heads from the cold. Eventually, the garb became daily attire and served as insulation from the damp and cold inside the University’s walls, and as identification that one had permission to pass into specific college buildings.

In the United States, the academic robes and hoods were first adopted as ceremonial attire for college officials in 1754 at the institution now known as Columbia University. In 1885, students in many of the country’s colleges and universities launched a movement to permit graduating candidates to wear robes and caps during the commencement. Eight years later, an intercollegiate commission of university officials adopted the country’s first code of color and design for the academic garb. Faculty soon adopted the custom of wearing gowns at commencement and other academic ceremonies. Although the code has been revised many times, today’s academic regalia represent those modifications accepted in 1960 and adopted by nearly 95 percent of the nation’s postsecondary institutions.

In the United States today, the academic robe is most often black; some institutions, however, sanction the use of specific colors. The length of the robe, the width of the sleeves’ borders, and the length of the hood all increase with each advanced degree. Colors in the hood identify both the specific field of study in which the degree was earned, as shown by the velvet border, as well as the institution that granted it, as shown by the lining. Master’s and doctoral level tassels are black; undergraduate level tassels are colored to represent the field of study. The following color table provides a key to the fields of study according to the Intercollegiate Code:

THE MACE

The mace was originally a medieval weapon that was carried by bishops of the church into battle as a protective device. The mace has survived for more than 900 years in a shape similar to that of a club, which commemorates its very early use.

In later times, the mace was carried by sergeants-at-arms who were bodyguards of kings and others of high rank. Both Richard I of England and Phillip II of France ordered their sergeant-at-arms to carry a ceremonial mace. Legislative bodies such as the English Parliament also adopted the ceremonial mace as part of the pomp and circumstance associated with opening the meeting of the body.

As universities developed during this same period, they too adopted the mace for use in academic processions. Today, the mace is carried by the Macebearer who leads the platform party, which includes the University President and other dignitaries, onto the stage for the graduation ceremony.

Throughout history, special craftsmen were presented with the task of decorating the mace so it carefully embodied the history, traditions, and symbols of the academic institution. Often, leading citizens or alumni of a university would donate the mace at the time of a special event.
