COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

MS. SHANNON MOSS
Journalist, News Center Maine

Shannon Moss is an award-winning journalist and media personality in Maine and the host of High School Quiz Show: Maine airing across the state on Maine Public Television each winter. Moss is no stranger to Maine's airwaves, having spent more than 14 years as a television anchor and reporter in the competitive Portland commercial news market.

Moss recently returned to news as a reporter for News Center Maine, where she started in 1999 and was best known for her Get Out Alive series, which received numerous awards from public safety organizations across the state. Before coming to Maine, Moss was a reporter and anchor at WSAW in Wausau, Wisconsin.

Moss grew up in Warwick, Rhode Island and graduated from the University of Rhode Island with a Bachelor of Arts in Journalism. While at URI, Moss was instrumental in helping to create URI-TV, a campus television station that aired on local cable television and has grown to be a part of the Harrington School of Communication. Moss graduated from URI with an award of excellence in Journalism.

As a veteran journalist, Moss is often asked to assist or advise on media relations topics and workshops. Moss is also known to spotlight and support multiple causes she believes in, such as STRIVE, the Trauma Intervention Program, and the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Moss lives in the Portland area with her husband, Andy, and her two sons, Quinn and Rowen.

Military Recognition

The challenge coin is a tradition in the military which started following WWI. Initially, coins were awarded by commanders for above and beyond accomplishment. This tradition continues to be popular in both military and veteran culture. Purdue University Global's challenge coin is presented to graduates who serve or have served in our armed forces in honor of their sacrifice to our country and academic achievement. Graduates will receive a military challenge coin with their associate's, bachelor's, or master's degree.

Gift of Knowledge Program

At Purdue University Global, we believe that investment in our employees and their education is an important component in the success of our community of professionals. The Gift of Knowledge program helps employees develop academically while they continue to develop professionally at Purdue University Global. Gift of Knowledge graduates are recognized with a special pin worn during commencement.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY GLOBAL GRADUATE CANDIDATES

The awarding of degrees to the candidates' names in this program is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of the appropriate requirements by each candidate, as verified by the Registrar. The listing of a student's name in this program in no way implies or ensures his or her graduation or the award of honors. Academic honors statuses will be noted in this program based on the student's CGPA as of May 16, 2018.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY GLOBAL HISTORY

Purdue University Global (formerly Kaplan University) traces its roots back to back to 1937 with the founding of the American Institute of Commerce. The University was one of the first institutions to offer higher education online, starting with just 34 students and a handful of degree options. Over the years it expanded its academic offerings and in 2004 began to offer master's programs. The University was acquired by Purdue University in March 2018 and renamed Purdue University Global. Purdue Global is a separate and distinct institution within the Purdue University system.

Purdue Global strives to help adult students unlock their talent by providing a practical, student-centered education that prepares them for careers in fast-growing industries. Graduates receive comprehensive education through disciplined, professional programs of instruction. The University was founded to provide professional business training and has achieved this objective for 80-plus years by keeping abreast of employment demands, employer needs, teaching methods, and the use of various educational resources and industry-standard technology and equipment.

Today, Purdue Global serves approximately 30,000 online and campus-based students throughout the country and around the world. In addition to many associate's and bachelor's degree programs, the University offers several online master's degree programs in business, legal studies, education, nursing, and criminal justice, among others. Concord Law School, Purdue Global's online law school, also offers Juris Doctor and Executive Juris DoctorSM programs. Purdue Global provides students a suite of personalized services and rich academic support through online tutoring, writing and mathematics labs, and web-based career planning diagnostics that help students craft a course of study to maximize their career potential.

The University has ground locations in Iowa, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, and Wisconsin. Purdue University Global, which has its main campus in Indianapolis, Indiana, and its academic headquarters in Chicago, is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission. This accreditation covers all Purdue Global's academic programs, all branch campuses, and all programs provided via distance education. For more information, please visit the HLC website at hlcommission.org or call 800-621-7440.

ACADEMIC REGALIA AND DRESS

Robes and hoods worn during the commencement are steeped in a tradition that dates back to the eleventh century, when the monks who administered Oxford University in England wore shoulder capes to protect themselves from scratches when they gathered alms and hoods to protect their shaven heads from the cold. Eventually, the garb became daily attire and served as insulation from the damp and cold inside the University's walls, and as identification that one had permission to pass into specific college buildings.

In the United States, the academic robes and hoods were first adopted as ceremonial attire for college officials in 1754 at the institution now known as Columbia University. In 1885, students in many of the country's colleges and universities launched a movement to permit graduating candidates to wear robes and caps during the commencement. Eight years later, an intercollegiate commission of university officials adopted the country's first code of color and design for the academic garb. Faculty soon adopted the custom of wearing gowns at commencement and other academic ceremonies. Although the code has been revised many times, today's academic regalia represent those modifications accepted in 1960 and adopted by nearly 95 percent of the nation's postsecondary institutions.

In the United States today, the academic robe is most often black; some institutions, however, sanction the use of specific colors. The length of the robe, the width of the sleeves' borders, and the length of the hood all increase with each advanced degree. Colors in the hood identify both the specific field of study in which the degree was earned, as shown by the velvet border, as well as the institution that granted it, as shown by the lining. Master's and doctoral level tassels are black; undergraduate level tassels are colored to represent the field of study. The following color table provides a key to the fields of study according to the Intercollegiate Code:

Intercollegiate Colors:

Agriculture	Maize (Pale Yellow)	Library Science	Lemon
